SAN ANTONIO – Rise Recovery will break ground to begin construction of the Charlie Naylor Recovery Campus located at 2803 Mossrock, San Antonio, TX 78230 with an expected opening in 2021. The groundbreaking ceremony will be held virtually for the public to view on Facebook via Rise Recovery’s main page @RiseRecovery on July 13 at 10 a.m. Invitees of the virtual groundbreaking will include those who have been instrumental in planning and funding this $8.5 million investment: The Rise Recovery Board of Trustees and Capital Campaign Committee, Carroll Jackson, Susan Naylor, Harvey E. Najim Charitable Trust, Kronkosky Charitable Foundation, Mabee Foundation, Mays Family Foundation, Zachry Corporation, Greehey Family Foundation, the Spurs, Valero Energy Foundation, and Rise Recovery staff. For over 40 years, Rise Recovery has provided recovery services to Bexar County teens, young adults and families out of donated space. Rise Recovery’s new 22,000 square-foot recovery center is the next step in changing how we address drug and alcohol addiction for our children, to enhance healing, eliminate shame and elicit safety, privacy, respect and hope. In addition to two program buildings, one for minors and another for young adults and family members, the campus will include a sport court and multiple outdoor communal areas to foster connection, creativity and collaboration. Through our programs, we help decrease the rate of challenging social issues that are astoundingly associated with this disease: domestic violence, child abuse, criminality and homelessness. This initiative ensures that Rise Recovery will continue to save lives and change the paradigm of drug and alcohol recovery in San Antonio for years to come.
